THE COURTS.

A Warm Contest Over a Very Cold Subject.

UNHAPPILY MARRIED.

Using Words in a Double Sense Interdicted by Law.

Cold as the subject of the litigation is, the case of Henry W. Wheeler against Alexander Hudnut presents in the courts all the appearances of a hot contest. The contest is not in reality, however, between Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Hudnut, but between the former and the Knickerbocker Ice Company. It appears that an ico business once carried on by the plaintiff the purchaser at that sale of the property organized what was known as the Commercial Ice Company. The purchaser was Mr. Barmore, President of the Knickerbocker Ice Company; but Mr. Henry W. Wheeler con-ducted the business of the concern, sold ice to custom-ers, and in all respects acted as the real owner. Mr. Barmore subsequently dying, the company of which he had been president, claimed ownership of the property, business and debts of the Commercial Com-pany; but this Mr. Wheeler denied, alleging that all pany; but this Mr. Wheeler denied, alleging that all his old friend, Mr. Barmore, did was to advance the money on his behalf to purchase the property and start the company, and that he had paid him back those advances before a sideath. Among the customers of Mr. Wheeler were Mr. Alexander Hudnut, the defendant in this case, the Leland brothers and a large number of others, all of whom were notified that the Knickerbocker Ice Company were their creditors, and not Wheeler's. All their dealings were with Mr. Wheeler, without any knowledge that the other company had anything to do with the business, and under the circumstances they know not which to pay, though quite willing to pay the party having the legal right to claim it. A test case was made of the claim of Mr. Hudnut, the druggist in the likakab Building, on a bill for $108. The case was tried in the Marine Court, on the issue whether Wneeler was doing business on the own account or whether he was only the agent of the Knickerbocker Ice Company. The verdict was in favor of Wheeler, and on an appeal to the General Term of the Court this Judgment was confirmed. In Caambers of the Court yesterday, before Judge McAdam, the case axan came up on a motion on behalf of defendant for a new triat, Mr. William A. Bench appearing for the motion was made on the ground that since the first trial evidence of importance, partly in the form in which the piaintiff had kept his booke, had been discovered, showing that the plaintiff was the igent of the Knickerbocker Company. Alter as extended argument Judge McAdam took the papers, reserving his decision. It was stated during the argument, and seems to be admitted, that the carnest contest made in this case is made on behalf of the Knickerbocker Ice Company alone, who seek to catabansh the mere agency of Wheeler, and thereby vest in themselves the ownership, not only of the property which he controlled, but also the right to collect all in his book accounts, both involving many thousancs of dollars. The company has indemnified his old friend, Mr. Barmore, did was to advance the

DIVORCE BULLETIN.

Among the numerous divorce suits pending in the Superior Court is one commenced nearly three months ago by Augusta Price against her husband Joseph Price a limited divorce on the ground of alleged crue and inhuman treatment. Mrs. Price charged that her husband was so abusive to her that she was compelled for her own safety to leave him. Since this suit was be. gun Mr. Price has also brought an action against his gun Mr. Price has also brought an action against his wife for an absolute divorce, cialming that she has been guilty of adultery. He says that about two weeks after their marringe she told him that she loved another man better than him and that after having imparted this piessing information she abandoned their home, not forgetting, however, to take away with her certain valuable jeweiry belonging to him. Mr. Price forther charges that his wife has been unlawicily intimate with Henry L. Williams, her attorney, and various other persons. The case came before Chief Justice Curtis, in the Superior Court, Special form, yesterday, on a motion for alimony and counsel fee on behalf of the wife, and was argued at considerable length. On this motion an affidavit was made by Mr. Williams emphatically denying the charge, as stated, was made on the affidavit of Stewart M. Freeman, a detective, who, it will be remembered, fluered some time ago as plaintiff in a similar suit in the courts. After hearing the argument and reading of papers Chief Justice Curtis took the matter under advisement.

Achilles Rose charges his wife Emma Rose, to whom he was married in December, 1866, at Tremont, Westchester county, with having deserted him nearly three years ago. He says further that she is now riving in Berlin, Germany, with another man, and that she has two children, one Marie Magdalene Rose, six years old, and another two years old, of which he is not the fature. He has brought a suit for divorce and Judge Donohue yesterday granted an order directing service of the summons by publication.

Juha Tierjen alleges that nor husband, John Tietjen, to whom she was married some twenty-five years ago, committed adultery in December last, and she now sues for a divorce. TAKEN AT THEIR WOED. Some time ago a suit was commenced in the Court of Common Piess by Matthew White against Jesse Hoyt and Co. to recover for a balance due for malting barley in October, 1872 White, as alleged, agreed to mait about 20,000 bushels of barley for Gordon & Son, for which the latter were to pay him twenty-Son, for which the latter were to pay him twenty-three cents per bushel. White received the barley in five separate fots and at the suggestion of Gordon & sen gave them receipts for two of the lots. After the maiting Gordon & son took away a portion for which they paid White $1,000 on account of the whole quantity. These two receipts were afterward delivered by Gordon & son to Hoyt & Co. as collateral for a loan, White being informed that their interest in the baiance of mait had been likewise transferred. White, however, refused to deliver it until Hoyt & Co. had paid the unpaid charges for maiting. The latter, although at lifest refusing, subsequently sent a letter agreeing to pay those char, es, whereupon the mait was delivered to them. Hoyt & Co. paid $2,500 on account, but refused to pay a baiance amounting to $1,000, claiming that when they said they would pay the charges on "this mait" they meant only the mait which the two receipts called for. The case was tried before Judge Van Hoesen, and resulted in a verdict for the plainfulfs for the full amount claimed. As the sublinvolved many intricate and interesting questions of commercial isw an appeal was at ooke taken to the Court of Appeals, where it was argued at considerable length by Mr. Frank D. Harmon on bebalf of the pinntill and Mr. J. A. Mapes for the defendant. That court has just rendered a decision affirming the judgment of the court below, deciding that the promise made to White by Hoyt & Co. was made upon a new and independent consuceration, and that were one uses words in a deceptive or double seeze for the purpose of misleaung the party with whom he contracts he is bound by them in the sense in which he intended they should be understood. three cents per bushel. Throughout the entire proceedings the prisoner maintained a look of storid indifference. The jury retired at a late hour and returned with a vedict of guity of arson in the second degree. The Resorder, after remarking that the prisoner was one of the vilest women ever tried and that she intended to sacrifice the lives of sixteen families by her triminal act, sentenced her to the Penitentisty for seven years.

VIOLATING THE ELECTION LAW.

A large throng assembled in Part 2 of the Court of General Sessions yesterday, Judge Gildersleeve pre-siding, to hear the trial of Mr. James W. Foshay, President, and Mr. Henry A. Newell, Superintendent of the Broadway and Seventh Avenue Railroad, who were charged with violating the Election law in having, as alleged, attempted to influence the votes of two of their employes at the last election during the contest between Sonators flizby and Ecclesine. District Attorney Pheips appearen for the prosecution, Mr. Dudley Field as counsel for Senator Ecclesine, and Mr. Willam A. Beach and Mr. John H. Bird for the defence. On taking his seat on the bench Judge Gildersleeve prompty rendered his decision on the motion made the previous evening by Mr. Beach te quash the indictments, on the ground that they were not sufficiently specific. His Honor said:—'The acts which it is claimed constitute the offence should be alleged. There amound be sufficient acts sot forth in the indictment, with reasonable particularity of time, place and eircumstances, to inform the court of the facts relied upon to obtain a conviction, so that it may decide wanther they are sufficient in law to support a conviction should one be had. The lagredients of which the offence is composed should be stated. If there were but one way in which the offence alleged could be committed the words of the statute would probably be sufficient.' His Honor theyciore granted the motion quashing the indetments.

It is said that Senator Ecclesipe will do his utmost to have a new indetiment found against the parties. of the Broadway and Seventh Avenue Railroad, who yesterday afternoon discovered the decomposed body of a man floating with the tide in the North River, opposite pier 44. He procured a boat and towed the body to the pier. The body was then scarched, and from papers found on the person it was ascertained that the drowned man was Thomas I. Brown, of Keyport, N. J. The deceased had been missing for about three months. Shortly before his disappearance Brown disposed of a considerable amount of property. His friends on that account believed he had met with foul play. This theory was explicted, however, yesterday by the finding of the body. In the pockets of the deceased was found a silver watch, $500 in greenbacks, $8.20 in silver, a promissory note for $200 and a twenty dollar bond of the New York Industrial Exhibition Company. Brown was last seen alive on West street, and it was said that at that time he was intoxicated. Superintendent Walling, who was acquainted with the deceased, on hearing of the finding of his body, or dered it to be taken care of until his friends could be notified. It is supposed that Brown accidentally walked overbogrd and was drowned. the body to the pier. The body was then searched, Judge Choate, in the United States District Court in Bankruptey, yesterday denied a motion for an order for a second meeting of the creditors of Charles Infeld. He said it appeared that the bankrupt had assets amounting to $5,008, and offered a composition of ten per cent of his pictors, which amounted to $12,033, the entire amount being unsecured. Two of the creditors had voted "No," and to allow it would be, he held, an abuse of the staute, and no court would allow it unless it was actually consented to by every creditor. Under these circumstances a second meeting seemed useless.

CHURCH MORTGAGE FORECLOSED.

The suit recently brought by the Union Dime Savings Bank to foreclose a mortgage of $100,000 on St. Aun's Episcopal Church, corner of Clinton and Livingston streets, Brooklyn, was called yesterday in the Kings County Supreme Court, Judge Barnard presiding. Messrs. Nathan D. Morgan and J. Nelson Tappen, who signed the bond, were made codelendants in the suit. Mr. J. L. Hill, who appeared as counsel for in the seit. Mr. J. I. Hill, who appeared as counsel for an to raise the legal point that the plaintiffs could not join him on the bond, as it was given as collaterat, and Mr. Tappen was entitled to a jury trial. Judge Barnard denied the motion, saying it was too late. The treasurer of the Union Dinne Savings Bank, Mr. Chapia, testified that the principal on the church mortgage was $100,000 and the interest since May 1, 1577, $7,64$, making a total of $107,544 43. Counselfor Hill asked the witness it he recollected that the bank passed a resolution calling upon the church to pay part of the principal and Mr. Chapin replied in the affirmative. The witness said that $25,000 had been paid by the church, but the bank descred the principal. Counsel then moved to dismiss the complaint as against Mr. Tappen, but Judge Barnard overruled the motion and ordered a judgment of fereclosure and saie, besides granting $200 extra allowance to the plaintiff. The church was not represented by counsel.

The most strendous efforts were made recently by the pastor of St. Ann's, Rev. Noah L. Schenck, to raise the debt, and a considerable amount was subscribed conditionally, but the movement was not responded to in the manner that had been hoped for by the pastor. The Episcopalisas will now, it is believed, come forward to rescue the edifice, and will buy it in a private sail to prevent its lailing into the hands of some other denomination. The church, which was built in 1568, is the largest Episcopalisa edifice in Brockiyn. Mr. Tappen, moved to amond his client's answer s

Mr. Livingston's suspicious becoming aroused, he communicated with Mr. Miller, at No. 548 Fifth avenue, and that gentleman pronounced it a forgery, but admitted that it was exceedingly well executed. The arrest of Victor followed. The prisoner is a well dressed man of about thirty-five years of sgc. In answer to the questions of the Court he stated that he was not in business at the present time. AWAITING INDICTMENT.

A Fresh Interest in the Matter of Street Obstructions.

The Grand Jury entered the Court of General Ses sions, and, having handed in a batch of indictments, informed Recorder Hackett that they had adjourned adjourning Court for the term to-day, but in view of their action would hold over until Friday. As stready mentioned, the indictments against the Board of Aldermen and the Board of Health are not yet before them, had to await their presentation until Friday, when they will reassemble, and, it is under-stood, will present the bills against the secused offi-

Alderman Biglin rose to a question of privilege dur-ing the regular meeting, and remarked that he did not use the language imputed to him in a recent newspaper interview relative to the Grand Jury and its

The Aidermen passed no resolutions at their regular session giving authority for the erection of additional stands on the sidewalks in any part of the city They have, however, developed a sudden anxiety as to procuring information relative to what obstructions

The motion was passed by a vote of 19 to 2. Commissioner Campbell sent in a reply to the resolution calling upon him to furnish a list of all nidewalk and calling upon him to furnish a list of all sidewalk and other obstructions in the city, commencing with Broadway, Fifth and Park avenues. He states that the request will receive proper consideration at his hands, but that further time will be required by him for the purpose of preparing a proper statement.

ANOTHER OBSTRUCTION.

Alderman Jacobus offered a resolution, which was passed, requesting the Commissioner of Pablic Works to report to the Board at its next meeting whether the building new in course of erection on the northeast constitutes an obstruction or encumbrance upon the sidewalk, and, if so, by what authority, if any, such obstruction or encumbrance has been placed upon the sidewalk in the erection of said street without any lawful authority why the same has not been promptly removed by the Commissioner of Public Works.

In the Court of General Sessions, Part 2, yesterday, Assistant District Attorney Bell called the case accused pleaded guilty to the indictment, and bad stipulated to abate the nulsance. He therefore moved that the same disposition be made of the case as had been made in the Preston case-namely, that the de-that the same disposition be made of the case as had been made in the i'reston case—namely, that the defendant be discharged from his bond and sentenced to a nominal penalty at some future time when the District Attorney had become satisfied that the nuisance had been abated. Jugge Gildersleeve ordered such a disposition of the case.

Mr. Bell then stated that Mr. Enoch O. Coe, whose trait for a similar offence had resulted in a verdict of guilty, desired to withdraw the bill of exceptions which had been filed and onter into the same agreement as the Prestons and Clark. Judge Gildersleeve consented to the proposition, stating that the object of the District Attorney's office was not to persecute any person but to abate a crying nuisance and purily the air of the city. On being questioned as to the cause of this action in reference to abandoning his bill of exceptions, Mr. Coe sam:—"In the absence of my counsel, I do not think the prosecution of my business under the new method would be an injury to any one, and believe this was fully shown on my trial by winnesses whose character is above reproach and whose knowledge of the gases evolved render them eminently qualified to judge. But for the sake of my peace of mind and the winnes of the people I nave decided to remove the business from its present location. The verdict of the jury in my case was "Guilty," but I acknowledge no guilt."

Michael Kaile, the proprietor of a large manure dump at Forty-fith street and East River, also pleaded guilty, and was discharged on condition that he would abute the nuisance and appear for sentence when called for.

Fay Brothers, soap makers, addressed a letter to the Commissioners, stating that in accordance with their instructions the firm had discontinued the practice of bringing lat from outside places into the city.

William H. McNeil, who keeps a fat rendering establishment in West Thirty-eighth street, was ordered to appear at the next meeting of the Board and show cause why his permit should not be revoked.

A report on the sanitary condition of Grammar School No. 45, in West Iwenly-eighth street, stated that in some of the rooms light and ventilation are limited until that a gas pipe in one room has been leaking since last vacation, and that the ventilating shafts from the sinks in the yard terminate close to the windows on the second floor of the building.

SANITARY IMPROVEMENT WEEDED.

The following letter was read before the Board of Health yesterday concerning the dangerous condition of the lands around lösth street and Third svenue:

To the Commissioners of the Hoand of Haalth;—
Generalisms—At the last meeting of the Board I had the hour to present a report from Dr. John E. On the 20th inst. the usual notice of a violation of the Santiary Code was towarded to Nesser. Jones & McQuade by mail. On Sunday, the 26th Inst. in company with Dr. Comfort, I inspected this locality and found the following condition of things, viz: The dirt removed while excavating for the sewer had been so deposited as to narrow the channel of Mill Brook to a stream about two and, a half fort wide by several inches in depth. This had resulted in the backing up of this fitting water, spreading it over four or five acres. The offensive exhalations were very marked already and will specially increase, as the submerging of these lands is steadily progressing. Mill Brook is necessarily, from the topography of the country through which it flows, and from the lack of proper drainage, an open sewer, and the Board of leasts has been allowed to happen are in a ouslines negation of and within 100

WALTER D. F. DAY, M. D., Sanitary Superintendent, STREET SPRINKLING.

The Aldermen yesterday passed the ordinance taking away the power from the Commissioner of Public Works of issuing licenses for sprinkling the streets. The ordinance was passed by a bare majority, the twelve Tammany members voting in the affirmative. Eight republicans and two anti-Tammany democrats voted in the negative. This action is construed as a part of the political fight now in progress between Commissioner Campbell and Immany Hall. Under the ordinance just passed permits for sprinkling the streets will be issued by the Registrar of Fermits in the Mayor's office to such persons as are recommended by the Committee on Street Favements of the Beard of Aldormen or by a majority of that body.

This resolution was called up by Alderman Shells, who contended that there was a ring in the Department of Public Works which controlled this business and that a change was necessary.

Alderman Morris stated that be understood the contracts for sprinkling the streets for the season had been given out. The sum, of $10,000, realized from this source, had been already paid into the city treasury. It was questionable whether the Aldermen could interfare with such contracts.

Alderman Waehner said he knew of a member of the legislature who had secured one of these water routes and had offered to sell one-half of it for $3,000.

After some further debate the previous question was ordered and the resolution passed.

He finds that the conduct of the executirx has been such as to give him grave doubts of her liness to not as executrix to protect the interests of the children. The estate, which was ample for their maintenance, has been to a great extent depreciated. An order should be entered requiring the executrix to give security for the initial performance of her daties or show cause why she should not be superseded as such executrix, and a decree must be entered requiring her to pay the amount of the deficiency into the estate. horwood, to account for the theome from the estate
